F o r e w o r d

To make vivid the growth of Virginia Intermont College during her first half century,

To make permanent the record of this, her Semi-Centennial Year,

To make real the dreams
of her future years,

Is the purpose of this, the thirty-third volume of

THE INTERMONT

C o n t e n t s

Book I..... College

Book II..... Classes

Book III.... Organizations

Book IV..... Features

Book V..... Athletics

Book VI.. Advertisements

D e d i c a t i o n

To the Intermont Alumnae of the first fifty years,

Who have dedicated themselves to the building of the Intermont of today,

The staff gratefully dedi-cates this,

THE INTERMONT
of 1934

The College

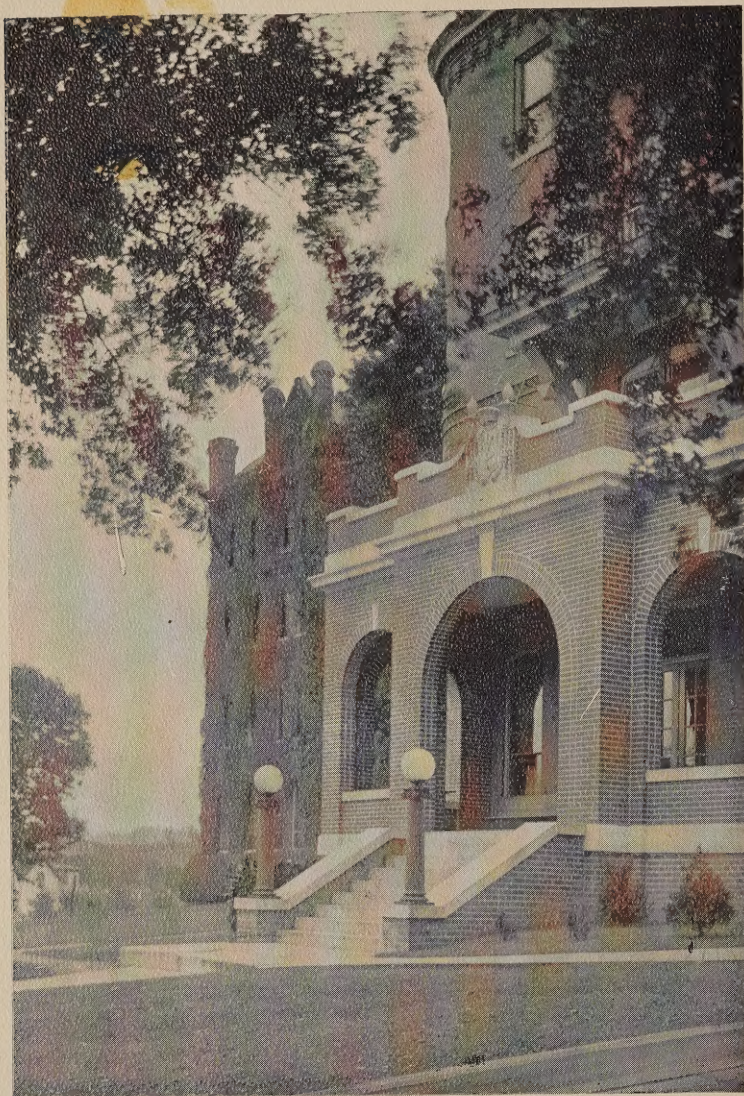

This friendly gateway and its wooden predecessor have welcomed nearly six thousand students and have bidden Godspeed to seventeen hundred graduates.

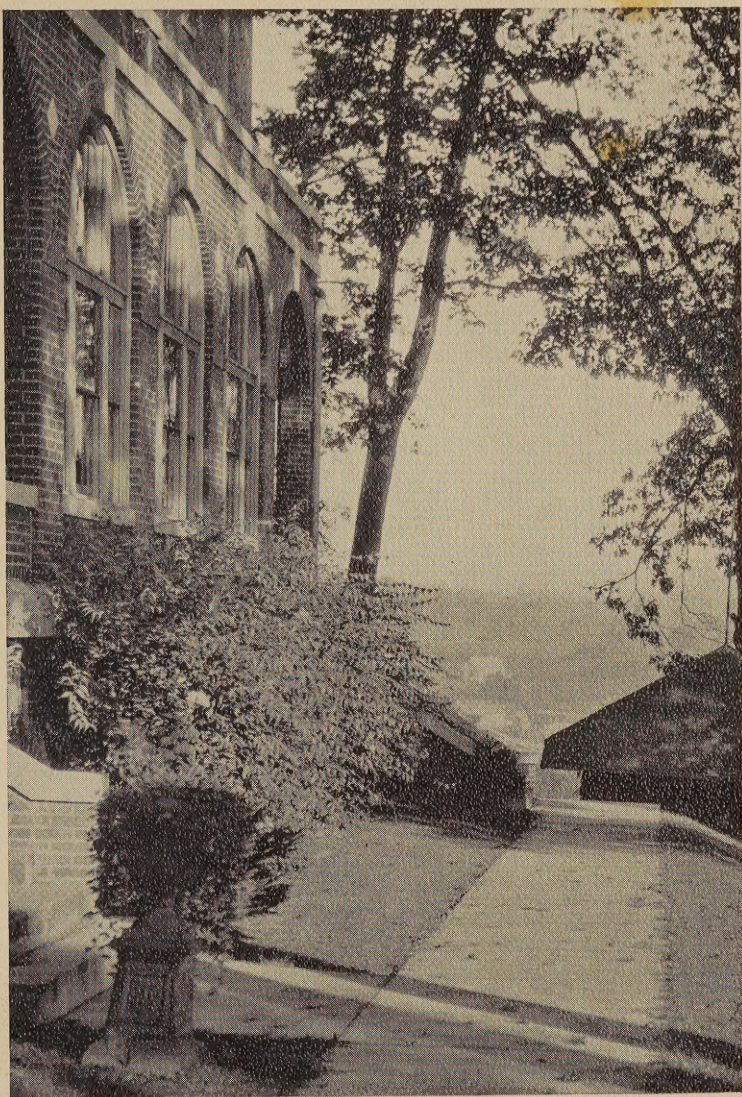

A glimpse of some of the college buildings, late in the afternoon of a snowy day, through the boughs of a gigantic elm tree on the campus.

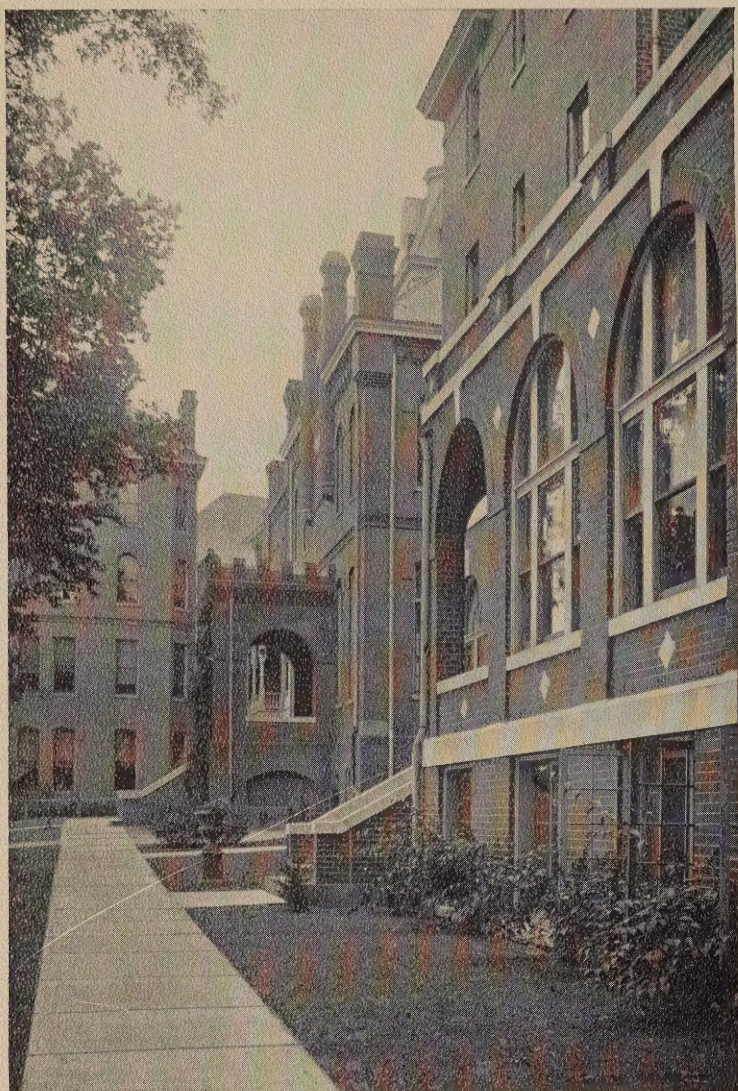

The lights and shadows of college life, as seen from Musicians' Row, across Harmeling Street from the campus.

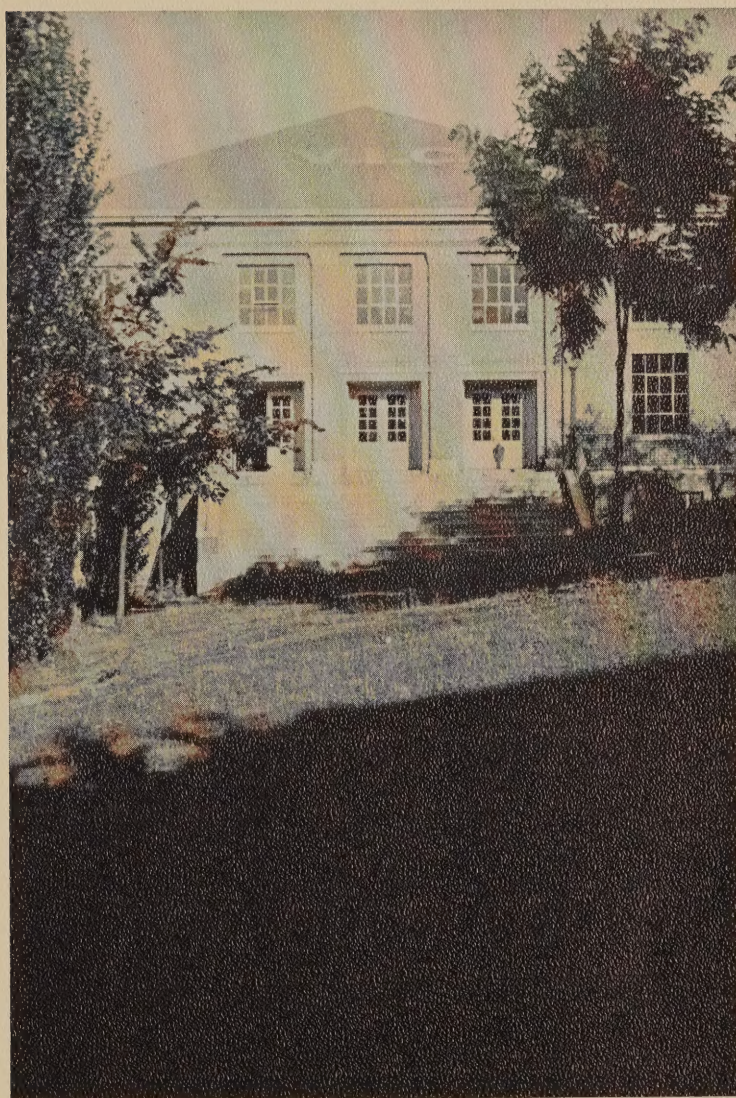

When the school was moved to Bristol, in 1893, important parts of the first building unit were "West" and "Administration." This is the way they appeared to students a decade ago.

The scene of many extra-curricular activities: East Hall sun-parlors, the south campus shade, the celebrated tea-house, and Bristol—in the distance.

This one view portrays much that is close to the life of Intermont: the halls, where she receives; the library, where she reads; and the chapel, where she worships.

The newest of Inter-mont's buildings is the Gymnasium, erected in 1931. It is the center of sports and of many social activities.

Intermont—1894

The picture above is a reproduction of an old print recently donated to the school by Mrs. C. E. Wildasin of Glade Spring, Va. It was taken some time shortly before the school was burned in 1894, before it was removed from Glade Spring, Va., to Bristol. It is a very rare photograph, probably the only one in existence, and is highly prized by the school. The April 16, 1891, issue of the Religious Herald, a copy of which is now on exhibit at the school, shows another view of the old building—a line drawing. We read from the same issue, "This school was begun in 1884 with a faculty of four and with thirteen boarding pupils. The enterprise so modestly begun has grown beyond the hopes of its most sanguine friends. . . . There are this session (1891-2) one hundred and twenty-five boarding students with an official staff of 18. . . . What has already been accomplished in the face of appalling difficulties is but a suggestion of what may be accomplished in coming years."

Annual Craftsmen

The art of book making as developed in the 20th century requires the highest degree of skill. It demands artistic handling of type faces, many of which have a classic beauty in themselves. High grade presswork, which necessitates hours of tedious make-ready to bring out the contrast of light and shadow found in every engraving. And last, but not least, the bookbinding—the art preservative that cares for your book for years to come. Yes, we do all these things, and many more and our journeymen take pride in producing books, especially College Annuals, of which all of us are proud.
